

Havayah: The Summer Experience at Beit Rabban

July 2 - August 17, 2012

The Havaya Summer Experience combines the caring, thoughtful, stimulating learning environment of the Beit Rabban school program with the relaxed, adventurous atmosphere of summer vacation. In addition to all of the pleasures of summer activities and our Central Park location, the summer program also features Hebrew, Jewish learning, field trips, and scheduled swimming at a neighborhood pool.

Designed for both current students and families in the community looking for a wonderful opportunity for their children, the Havaya Summer Experience provides the school's high level of adult supervision as well as the familiarity of friends and location and the Beit Rabban commitment to inquiry, playfulness, creativity, and challenge—but now with swimsuits and sun block.

While each week focuses on an engaging theme, the children have the opportunity to engage in the following activities on a regular basis:

- Art
- Swimming and water games
- Dance and movement
- Drama
- Hebrew language
- Nature and science
- Explorations
- Sports
- Music
- Jewish learning
- Outdoor activities in Central Park
- Games
- Quiet time for younger children
- Storytelling

Each week's theme guides the program and often involves one or two field trips. Past destinations have included the aquarium, zoo, puppet theater, special playgrounds and similar age-appropriate locations.

The day begins at 9:00 and concludes at 3:30, with a 8:30 early drop-off and a 4:00 late pick-up for a small fee) On Fridays, the program concludes at 2:00 with no late pick-up. The schedule also allows for early pick-up at the school for younger children at 12:30 and 2:00 . Children bring their own dairy lunch, while Beit Rabban provides water bottles and daily kosher snacks.

Groupings, Staff and Supervision

Most activities are group based, with children assigned to either a mixed-age early childhood group (Gan) or to an elementary age group. Each group of ten to fifteen children is supervised by two adults, with most of our summer staff consisting of Beit Rabban's exceptional academic faculty, who bring their training, expertise, and knowledge of our community to the Summer Experience. The program is lead by the Havaya Director, under the guidance and supervision of the Beit Rabban administration.

Facilities

The Havaya Summer Experience takes place at the Beit Rabban facility at 8 West 70th Street and makes use of Central Park and the surrounding Upper West Side. Weekly field trips take advantage of the wonderful opportunities for children in New York City and its environs.

Twice a week, the children travel to a nearby facility for swimming activities. On the first day of each week, parents are required to send a spare bathing suit, towel, and change of clothing. All of the program staff are first aid and CPR certified and Beit Rabban's general medical protocols are followed.
